01. Market Commentary

DSEX ended in red for the week decreasing by 121.26 points [2.47%] compared to the previous week. It stands at 4781.02 points.

The index fell for the sixth consecutive week sitting at support levels last seen in late November of 2020. The index has fallen by around 8.15% or an astounding 424 points since April 10th. The index started the week off with an upward movement due to positioning of investors in specific scrips at deeply corrected prices. However, the index fell again and the investors went into selling spree amidst lack of any positive outcome from the meeting with the CA regarding the capital market scenario. Investors also preferred to stay on the sidelines as a cautionary stance as the upcoming budget approaches.

Investor participation decreased significantly this week as reflected by decrease in average daily turnover by around 33% causing the average daily turnover to fall below the BDT 350 Crore level. Investors' trades in this week focused on Bank scrips followed by Mutual Funds and Food & Allied scrips. In terms of sectoral returns, all sectors were in negative territory, with the Ceramics sector suffering the most with a return of -5.76%.

Market capitalization stands at USD 53.2 Billion*.

*(USD 1 = BDT 122.00 as on May 15, 2025).
