DSEX ended in red for the week decreasing by 8.56 points [0.15%] compared to the previous week. It stands at 5652.82 points.

Index broke its positive streak of five consecutive weeks and was red in the week. Index started the week on a downward note as profit taking ensued following the recent rally of the index. However, the market picked by in the middle of the week due to positive favorable affirmations regarding market development and bargain hunters buying undervalued scrips for availing tax benefits. This caused the index to recover its losses and end the week on a marginal decline.

Investor participation decreased by around 26% reducing the average daily turnover below the BDT 1,000 Crore level. Investors' trades in this week focused on Pharmaceuticals scrips followed by Engineering and Textile scrips.
